Disco

 and boogie away.
 According to Paul Parsons

of Parsons Electric, four sets of quartz lights, four 'bubble-gum' blinkers, strobe lights and a revolving mirror ball extended from the middle of the roof, created the light show. A small computerized control system changed the patterns of colors.

Similarly, music programmer Michael Zotos perfectly timed the disco selections and a few slower numbers. One couple danced lovingly and nostalgically in each others arms to the tune of "Surfer Girl" by the Beach Boys.

Rink owner, Peter Breen, was very pleased at the attendance. "It's clean fun," he remarked. "It's over at 11 p.m., there's no booze and the kids are having a great time." Breen estimated that the venture, aimed toward the popular craze to boost business, attracted all age groups from Boston on down to the South Shore. He has an idea, however, that separate disco ice skating programs will be provided for those 14 and under, as well as for older groups in the future.

It was quasi dark in the rink despite the artificial aurora borealis, but there were no bad spills or accidents, nor did Breen anticipate any. Venturing out past the skaters onto the 20' by 20' dance floor for a turn or two herself, this reporter can personally testify that it was a literal case of the light fantastic.

What you like is what you get at Papa Gino's Grand Opening:

At a lot of restaurants, you take what you get. At Papa Gino's, you get what you like.

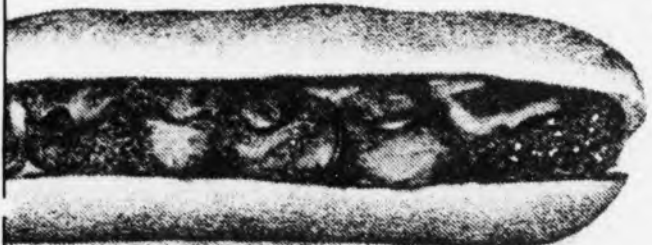

Like seafood? Try our delicious Mile-Long Seafood Salad Roll, served on a bed of fresh lettuce in a toasted roll.

Like hamburgers? Our Papa Burger is 100% extra-lean beef cooked to order. With melted cheese, crisp lettuce and special dressing on a toasted sesame seed bun.

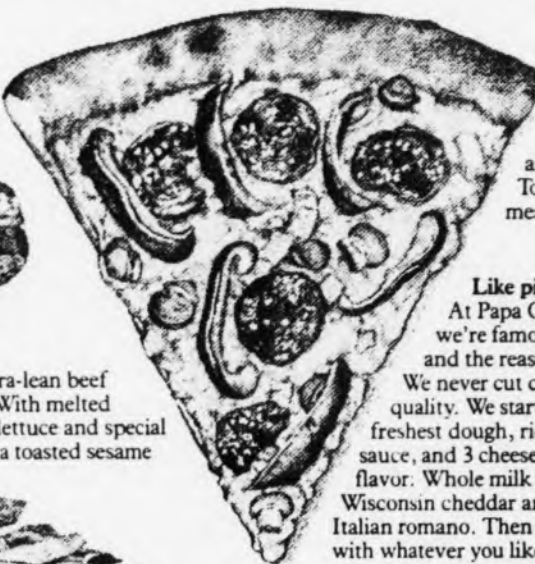

Like free gifts? We're giving away pizza cutters to the first 1000 people who stop by. And we'll have free balloons (while they last) for the kids.

Like meatball subs? We make our own meatballs from extra-lean ground beef, romano cheese, fresh eggs and seasonings.

Also Featuring:

- All You Can Eat Salad Bar - $1.45
- Beer
- Wine

Like pasta? Our Papa Platter features all your favorites on one plate. Spaghetti, shells, and plump cheese ravioli. Together with a homemade meatball and spaghetti sauce.

Like pizza? At Papa Gino's we're famous for it, and the reason is simple: We never cut corners on quality. We start with the freshest dough, rich tomato sauce, and 3 cheeses for extra flavor. Whole milk mozzarella, Wisconsin cheddar and imported Italian romano. Then we top it off with whatever you like.

Like french fries? We use Grade A Fancy western potatoes cooked in pure vegetable shortening.

Like salad? The secret is fresh vegetables and that's just what you get along with your choice of dressings.
